Dedication

Leadership is a quality which many recognize, some envy, and few possess. We, the yearbook staff, have chosen to dedicate the 1973 Panorama to one of those few. This individual has been a leader of the highest calĭber, not one who coerces but one who guides. This rare quality has been exhibited not only in the extra-curricular activities she directs, but also in the classroom where she has been a source of inspiration to all of her students.

Although she is small in stature, her role in the school careers of the class of '73 has been an immense one. She has moved us to greater aspirations and accomplishments. Her interest in us as individuals has been admirable.

Therefore, we, the Panorama Staff with gratitude and humility dedicate this to an inspiring individual and devoted leader . . .

Mr. James W. Dunagan, Principal

Progressive Leadership Makes the Difference

In the twenty-three years of Arundel's history, Mr. James W. Dunagan has been Principal since 1964. Under his direction, Arundel has become known as the educational leader of Anne Arundel County.

One of the most successful innovations was the college-type registration. Started here two years ago, other county high schools have just begun to use this system. Both years it was carried out professionally, and both the faculty and student body agreed the results were excellent. A contributing factor to the success of the college-type registration was the broad selection of semester and full year courses.

Another Arundel first was the Student Curriculum Committee, a standing committee of the Student Government Association. The Student Curriculum Committee evaluated the curriculum and tried to coordinate the ideas of the students with those of the faculty.

Arundel's leadership was again recognized with its selection as a Teacher Education Center. As a Teacher Education Center, Arundel worked in Cooperation with the University of Maryland in the training of prospective teachers.

It is a pleasure and privilege to extend my personal congratulations and best wishes for success and happiness to each member of the Class of '73.

James W. Dunagan

Arundel's Own P. R. Man

Maintaining a building the size of Arundel could easily have been a full time job. Mr. Ray Rifenburg accepted this duty plus that of observing and evaluating teachers, and that of public relations man with the community.

It was Mr. Rifenburg's job to see that the building was in top condition. He made sure the building was clean, the lights worked, the water ran only when it was supposed to, and had the classrooms, restrooms and halls painted.

His job also included working with the county office in needed improvements to the building. Mr. Rifenburg got the county to purchase and install new bleachers in the gym and lighting for the auditorium.

The First to Arrive

As one of his duties, Mr. Hayden Ellyson was responsible for hiring substitute teachers. Teachers who would be absent from the first shift called him at his home as early as 4 A.M., while those on the second shift would wait until he arrived at school at 6 A.M.

His other duty was attendance. It was Mr. Ellyson's job to keep an accurate record of the attendance for the 2700 plus student body. He reported the attendance daily to the county office. At the end of the school year, he was responsible for completing a record of attendance for the entire student body for the whole school year.

Right: Mr. Hayden Ellyson greets late bus arrivals.

Mr. Donald Murrman reviews parking permit applications.

Administrators Work Long Day

The four Administrators put in nine hours each day. Miss Campbell, Mr. Tate, and Mr. Murrman start their day at 7:00 and leave for home at 4:00. Mr. Regina's day is from 8:30 to 5:30.

Mr. Harvey Tate has been administrator of the class of '73 for three years. He was also assigned other duties including administrator for the Senior Class activities.

Mr. Donald Murrman was in charge of supervision of athletics, co-ordination of bus transportation and maintenance of the building.

Miss Cleo Campbell continued with the class of '74 as eleventh grade administrator and was also responsible for showcase and bulletin boards throughout the school.

Mr. Edward Regina handled attendance and disciplinary problems concerning tenth grade students.

Mr. Edward Regina relaxes after a faculty meeting.

Mr. Harvey Tate pauses a minute to greet a new student.

Arundel Teacher Education Center

Mr. Allen Foutty was the coordinator for the Teacher Education Program. This program was served by several schools in the area. The purpose of this program was to give undergraduate students from the University of Maryland an opportunity to learn different ways of teaching, and later to actually teach a class. This experience has become an integral part of the perspective teachers educational process.

Mr. Domshick Added to Supervisory Staff

Ms. Evelyn Lezzer served again this year as the Supervisor of Instruction, which included the supervision of teachers and planning curriculum. Because of the pressure and vast responsibility, Mr. Andrew Domshick came to Arundel to serve as her assistant.

Mr. Domshick came to Arundel from Annapolis Junior High where he was a supervisory intern. Previously, he taught biology, zoology, and physiology at Northeast. He was head of the Science department at Northeast and Corkran.

Guidance Staff Adds Miss Harding

Keeping the students of Arundel informed was one of the main goals of the Guidance department for the 72-73 school year. Each counselor met with each of his or her students at least once during the year. The students were informed on such things as their grade average, standing in class, program of studies, and their general interests.

Miss Carol Harding joined the Guidance staff, replacing Mr. Knapp. Miss Harding returned to Arundel after her brief departure several years ago.

Media-Center Fulfills Needs

Arundel's Mass-Media Center provided students and faculty with current, up-to-date information. The center contained over 16,600 books and 3,719 non-print items such as microfilms, filmstrips, and tape recordings.

Arundel acquired a new Media assistant, Mrs. Gale Livingston, and a new aide Mrs. Jean Wooden. The staff had their work load lightened somewhat by the new Microfilm Reader-Printer.

Secretaries Keep Typing

With the increasing enrollment, it was necessary to enlarge the secretarial staff. Mrs. Thelma Hare was secretary to Mr. Tate, Miss Campbell, and Mr. Regina. Mrs. Joan Davis was secretary to Mr. Domshick. Mrs. Jean Thompson was Mr. James Dunagan's secretary; Mrs. Vena Sasser, secretary to Mr. Ray Rifenburg and Mr. Donald Murrman; Mrs. Ruth Mary Brewbaker, financial secretary; Mrs. Ethel Ritchie, guidance secretary; Mrs. Mildred Eutsler, supervisors secretary; and Mrs. Ethel Jollensten managed the main office.

English, New Experience

For Arundelites, this year has been a new experience in English. Several new semester courses have been added to the English curriculum, such as, Technical Theater, Myth and Man, Advanced English Patterns, Seminar on Ideas, and Film Making.

Along with the new courses, new methods of teaching have been established. Video-taping has been used in the Mass Media course. For those students interested in poetry, a poet came to work with them. Center Stage presented pantomines to the Drama Classes to demonstrate the art of communicating without words.

English Department Largest Ever

The English department was the largest with a staff of twenty-three full time teachers, plus five teachers from other departments who taught one or more periods of English per day.

Mrs. Maddox again chaired the English department. However, due to the increased population of the Sophomore class, Mr. Wilkerson and Mrs. Chamblee accepted the responsibility of supervising sophomore English teachers on the second shift.

Students Elect Extra English Courses

Many Arundelites have taken advantage of registering for extra English courses in addition to those courses required.

This year, five English teachers were new to Arundel. They were: Mrs. Mary Hall, Mrs. Karen Carpenter, Mr. Partick Redd, Mr. David Brown, and Mrs. Wanda Trimnol.

School publications were under the English department. They include the Literary Magazine under Creative Writing, the newspaper and the yearbook listed under Journalism.

Communication: Prime Purpose

Arundel's English speaking student body was offered a wide range of choices in the study of foreign languages. French, Spanish, German and Latin were offered according to the interest of the student. English was offered as a second language to those students whose native tongue was other than English.

French, Spanish and German were offered with the prime purpose of communication behind it. Latin was more a language for knowledge and thought rather than practical application.

The benefits of studying the foreign language included an insight into our own English language, examination of our position abroad, both currently and historically, and the opportunity to study volumes of world literary masterpieces.

Self-Pacing Expands

Arundel welcomed four teachers new to the Math department. They were Mr. Donald Barger, Mrs. Angela Gallichio, Mr. Paul Lobby and Mr. James Nickel.

Self-pacing math courses were expanded to include all students on the divided shifts. One self-pacing course was Trigonometry. Sophomores were allowed to take Algebra II on the self-pacing program.

One math classroom was redecorated with new tables which were larger and more spacious. Students could be seen together in groups at the tables, conferring about problems concerning math.

Juniors Use Survey I

The Social Studies department has passed the point of no return. Students who registered for a history course, no longer received the traditional U.S. History, World History or Problems of the Twentieth Century type course.

The survey I method was employed by all juniors taking U.S. History first semester. For their second semester, the students chose from a variety of specialized courses including, Social Problems, Introduction to the Behavioral Sciences, and Humanities in Three Cities.

Social Studies Adjusts to Growth

Mr. Harvey Taylor taught two classes of multi-ethics. Multi-ethics dealt with the history of minority groups but mainly concentrated on blacks.

A new approach to Sociology was used for the first time this year by Mrs. Helen Granger. Sociology was taught from an anthropological point of view.

Job Placement Is Goal of V.E.P.

There were three teachers involved in Arundel's Vocational Experience Program, Mr. Charles Walker, Mr. Horace Storey, and Mr. Joseph Krolicki. Together with various area job training centers, these men strove to obtain what they hoped would be long term placements for the thirty plus students participating in the Vocational Experience Program.

The students' academics consisted of distributive and consumer education classes. Eleventh graders received job training while providing many services for the school. Services varied widely from resource center aid, to library assistant, to office aid. V.E.P. students in the twelfth grade spent three hours in school each day before reporting to their outside jobs.

Business Offers Six Choices

The Business Department offered six career courses: Bookkeeping, Clerical Practice, Stenography, Data Processing, Distributive Education, and Cooperative Occupations. The second largest department in the school which employed nineteen full time teachers also offered four work-study programs: Distributive Education, Cooperative Occupations Program, Data Processing, and Cooperative Office Education. These students attended classes at Arundel for three periods and then worked the rest of the day on jobs related to their classes.

Business Sponsors Three Clubs

The student job placement program at Arundel continued to have excellent results. Every business student was aided in finding a job.

Many up-to-date pieces of equipment were used, including electric typewriters, calculators, duplicators, shorthand laboratory equipment and IBM keypunch.

The Business Department sponsored three extra-curricular clubs. They were Vocational Industrial Club of America (VICA), Distributive Education Club of America (DECA), and Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA).

Driver's Ed. Emphasizes Road Safety

Mr. Robert Englemeyer made the Driver's Education course he taught both a fun and worthwhile class. Students used simulators, books, and automobiles to learn driving on the public roads, and the laws connected with them. After completing the required time in class and behind the wheel satisfactorily, the student was rewarded with a certificate which declared him eligible to take the Maryland State driver's test. Otherwise, he would not be permitted to get the license until he was eighteen years old.

Completing driver's education satisfactorily entitled the student to reduced insurance rates.

Science Increases Offerings

The Science Department has expanded its course offerings to include programs aimed at different ability levels. Such courses included Organic Chemistry, Practical Chemistry, and Invertebrate and Vertebrate Zoology.

New techniques were employed to improve the teaching methods used by the department. One technique was evaluations made by the students themselves concerning the teachers as well as the curriculum. The number of laboratory exercises were increased in class due to these evaluations.

Mr. Howard Metzbower supervised the Multi-Media Chemistry Program, which was similar to a self-pacing class. Students were permitted to study the materials in many different ways. They could choose to use laboratory exercises or utilize media hardware such as the 16mm film projector.

A new face around the science laboratories was Mrs. Betty Rowlands, a Biology teacher.

Girls Invade Industrial Arts at Arundel

Mr. Donald Hobbs and Mr. John Weatherford were proud to announce that for the first time at Arundel there was an all girl Industrial Arts class.

The girls received instruction in mechanical drawing that could be used for house plans, making furniture out of wood, and creating artistic figurines out of metal workings.

Participation in I.A. has grown so much that Mr. Hobbs anticipates another teacher will be necessary in the near future.

Left: Mr. Donald Hobbs looks on as Mr. John Weatherford attaches a safety guide to the table.

Home Economics Provides Real Life Experience

The Home Economics Department provided real-life experience in its course offerings. The Food classes worked in a laboratory, the Management classes handled financial problems, and the Child Development conducted a nursery school.

Boys were included in all Home Economics classes except Clothing. The majority of the boys enrolled in the Foods classes.

The Foods courses included food labs, and cooking regional, international, modern convenience, and soul foods.

Hall Posters Express Creativity

New ideas have developed in the Art Department, such as naming a student "Artist of the Month" and displaying his work for other Arundelites to see.

Art students have also made most of the posters seen in the halls of Arundel.

Although Art was not offered on the second shift, interested sophomores came to school early for art instruction. Next year, the Art Department hopes to have a class for sophomores on the second shift.

Music Notes Changes

During the course of 1972-73 Arundel's Music Department expanded and set new goals for both the instrumental and the vocal groups.

Many outstanding achievements were accomplished by the band. Under the direction of Mr. Philip Butts, they placed second in the Laurel Christmas parade winning $200. They also appeared in The Baltimore City "Veteran's Day" Parade. Two new additions to the instrumental sections were the Incorporated Stage Band and the Guitar Ensemble.

The vocal area acquired a new group called "The Madrigals." The Madrigals performed songs from the Renaissance era.

Slimnastics Helps Girls Keep Trim

The girls' Physical Education Department was again headed by Mrs. Jean Boyd. This year, many new programs for girls were established. Gymnastics was broadened to include Beginners, Intermediate, and Advanced gymnasts. Other new classes were Slimnastics, Special Physical Education, Health, Team sports, and Co-ed team sports.

Girls' participation in intramurals was re-introduced at Arundel with a girls' volleyball team.

Universal Gym Completes 2nd Successful Year

The boys' Physical Education Department, under the direction of Mr. Steve Carroll, acquired new activities including, co-ed recreational sports, team sports, advanced basketball, and weight training.

A new feature in the gymnasium was a handball court designed on the dividing doors.

The Universal Gym continued to attract students for further physical development.

Business Adds Resource Center

This year the Business Resource Center was added to the existing four centers. Mrs. Hazel Tooman (English), Mrs. Joan Caha (Business), Mrs. Emma Williams (Science), Mrs. Helen Poole (Mathematics) and Mrs. Geraldine Cole (Social Studies) were the aides for the Resource Centers.

The aides' responsibilities were to supply teachers with the necessary classroom materials, and offer their assistance to the students.

Attendance Is Never Tardy

The Attendance Office was up to date in keeping track of students on a daily and monthly basis with the help of the Data Processing equipment. Each morning a list of absentees was processed for the convenience of the teachers. Students who came to school late or left early reported to this office for passes. Also, new students coming from other schools or students who withdrew from school reported to this office to complete the necessary forms.

Right: Attendance Staff — Mrs. Debbie Edwards (seated) and Miss Gloria Guercio.

Arundel Serves Satellite Schools

Due to the tight scheduling at Arundel, cafeteria service was only necessary for sixth subject students. The cafeteria staff made a small change this year. They still served a la carte lunches, but opposed to last year, the cafeteria staff cooked their own food and sent it to other schools in the surrounding area.

Mrs. Sandra Hofmann Advises Class Through Senior Year

This year marked the revival of the traditional Senior Privileges. "Senior Get-away Day" was one of the privileges approved by Mr. Dunagan and the Faculty Council. This entitled seniors to leave the school building five minutes early on Fridays. The officers obtained two other privileges: a section of bleachers for seniors at all football and basketball games; and, the abolishment of final examinations for seniors.

Renée Brooks served as President, Lynn Miano as Vice-President, and Kathy and Kay Warbritton were elected to the offices of Secretary and Treasurer, respectively. These were the positions the Warbrittons held in their junior and sophomore years.

The class took on three new officers this year. Dee Zarnowski acted as Prom Chairman, and Janet Britenstine teamed with Nancy Mitchell to act as co-chairmen for the Publicity Committee.

Mrs. Sandra Hofmann continued as class advisor. She has been advisor to the class of '73 since they came to Arundel Senior High.

No longer can I escape
the thought of the freedom
we soon will be offered,
The gates will open
and the world will be ours to capture.

Breaking away from the ties we have now
Losing our dependence and finding a wild world
we must strive in.

We've had our share of excitement and experience
in our high school days
Now we must separate from each other and go it alone.
Growing more day by day,
and searching
for what we hope to gain in life.

Some of us will find success
without any pain,
Some of us will have to struggle for that success.

Failure we may find along the life we're leading,
Cannot be so rough
we would want to lose hope.

We must accept it.

If we went through life
without some kind of failure,
Would we ever know
the feeling of accomplishment?

The world is ours now.

To all men,
black, white, red and yellow,
Your life can be what you aim for,
whether happiness, wealth or love.

Don't pass it by

Reach out for it.

Homecoming Queen Carol Haynes

Carol came to Arundel in her junior year from Melbourne Beach, Florida. In the fall of 1971, she was selected for the role of Barbara Allen in the drama production of "Dark of the Moon." In addition to being a member of the Pom Pon squad, Carol was an SGA representative. She was also voted Best Looking by the Senior Class.

Miss Arundel
Lynn Miano

Miss Arundel for 1973 was Lynn Miano. Lynn's years at Arundel were indeed busy ones. She was a member of the Leaders Club and Cheerleading squads for three consecutive years. She was elected to the office of class vice-president in her junior and senior years. Lynn was a member of the Gymnastics Club and was elected Most Friendly by the Senior Class. Outside of Arundel's walls, Lynn enjoys tennis, swimming and figure skating. When asked how she felt about being Miss Arundel, she exclaimed, "I couldn't believe it happened to me! It was like a dream!"

Juniors Plan a Picnic and a Prom

This year proved to be one of achievement for the Class of '74. Their accomplishments started with a tri-sponsored jam. Later, they held a candy campaign to increase their treasury.

During the Christmas season, they took part in a canned food drive. This was designed to provide canned goods for all in need of such supplies in Anne Arundel County.

Other junior activities were planning for their prom, a picnic in the Spring, and an effort to organize a Junior Council.

Acting as Junior Class Officers were Lynn O'Mara, President; Jane Coyle, Vice-President; Kathy Gamache, Secretary; and, Vickie Jones, Treasurer. Ms. Janet Chamblee was class advisor.

To understand the world is wiser than to condemn it. To study the world is better than to shun it. To use the world is nobler than to abuse it. To make the world better, lovelier, and happier, is the noblest work of man or woman.

Sophomores Aided by Steering Committee

As always, there were problems with sophomore involvement in school activities. This year, the officers of the Class of '75 strived to find ways for sophomore participation.

They were proud of the great response for the construction of the float for Homecoming. Their efforts were rewarded by winning first place. The float was financed by a candy bar sale.

The sophomores planned a clean-up campaign which included both the school building and the campus.

Two Arundelites Serve as C.R.A.S.C. Officers

Ann Jennings served as President of the Chesapeake Regional Association of Student Councils, while Rosalyn Smackum held the office of Treasurer. The purpose of C.R.A.S.C. was to unite all student governments in the region to act as a channel for presenting views and problems on the county-wide level.

C.R.A.S.C. worked on getting smoking lounges in all senior high schools in the county. They planned a presentation to the school board in early spring. C.R.A.S.C. also published a newsletter which provided all students in Anne Arundel county with news of other secondary schools, and acted as an exchange of ideas.

They worked closely with the Maryland Association of Student Councils (MASC) to establish a state-wide Student Bill of Rights and Responsibilities.

Ann Jennings and Rosalyn Smackum await the arrival of C.R.A.S.C. delegates.

Junior Heads S.G.A. for First Time

The S.G.A. encouraged better human relations for all students at Arundel, promoted the general welfare of the student body, and provided a medium of expression.

For the first time in Arundel's Student Government history, a junior held office as president. Other changes put twelve representatives from each class in the place of the homeroom representatives, and eliminated senators.

Ms. Jean Beaudin, sponsor, looked on to see the Student Government organize committees to work on a Student Court, Film Festival, selecting an orphan to support, and a charity drive. The symposium, jam sessions, and MASC convention were other businesses discussed at the meetings.

SCC Has Plans

The Student Curriculum Committee planned many activities for the 1972-73 school year. Gary Lloyd and John Cantrell assisted the administration with the college-type registration, with the help of Miss Judith Cook and Ms. Evelyn Lezzer, the two S.C.C. advisors. They also helped develop new course offerings for next year.

One of the most successful programs of the year was the student aid program. Approximately 80 students participated in aiding teachers in 19 elementary and junior high schools. Another S.C.C. project was the symposium planned for the spring. About 100 speakers were to come and lecture on a variety of subjects. Students would be required to come to school, but could choose the classes they wished to attend.

Inter-Club Council Coordinates Activities

A major change was made in the organization of the Inter-Club Council. In the past, the Vice-president of the Student Government automatically served as ICC President. Under the new SGA Constitution, the ICC President was selected by the SGA President, and ratified by the representatives.

Mr. Thomas Martin, an art teacher, remained as sponsor, while Dewey Blyth was selected as president. The ICC coordinated some of the schools social activities, such as, the Homecoming Parade and the Carnival.

All clubs and organizations were represented in the ICC.

Senior Council Organizes Year

The Senior Council was sponsored by Mrs. Sandra Hoffman, who has guided the Class of '73 since its beginning at Arundel. Officers Renée Brooks (President), Lynn Miano (Vice-president), Kathy Warbritton (Secretary), and Kay Warbritton (Treasurer) planned many activities that involved the Senior class as a whole, such as, the Bonfire, and the Homecoming Dance. Later in the year, the Class of '73 sponsored the Powder-Puff Basketball Game, the Miss Arundel Dance, and a canned food drive for Christmas.

Right: Mrs. Sandra Hoffman relaxes outdoors after a Senior Council meeting.

Afro Club Bridges Gap

The Afro club, sponsored by Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Hunt and Miss Hutchins, served as a focus for social activities for Arundels black population, but was not limited to blacks. The club tried to increase their friendships among black students, and to emphasize goals and values common to black and white students.

The club's highlight was the Miss Afro Pageant held in the early spring, in which the girls compete in appearance, poise, and talent for the title of "Miss Afro."

Editorial Staff Struggles With Deadlines

Through the group effort of eighteen students and Mr. Raymond Krolicki, the editorial staff produced the layouts and copy for the 1973 Panorama. The theme was "Our World," and it illustrated the many opportunities available to Arundelites within the school boundaries.

Sherrie Iverson was Editor-in-Chief. She coordinated the sections into one idea expressed in the theme. Maureen Reilly was the Copy Editor. In charge of the Senior section, and Honors and Beauties were Marcia Borum and Joan Pakulla. Academics was handled by Renée Brooks, Marcia Woodbury and Lois Ventsias. Evelyn Thompson and Donna Buckholtz designed the Underclassmen section. Gary Conner and Terry Stevenson collaborated on Activities, while Debe Decker and Becci Brandon worked on Organizations. Sports was tackled by Steve Colly and Joe Obermeier.

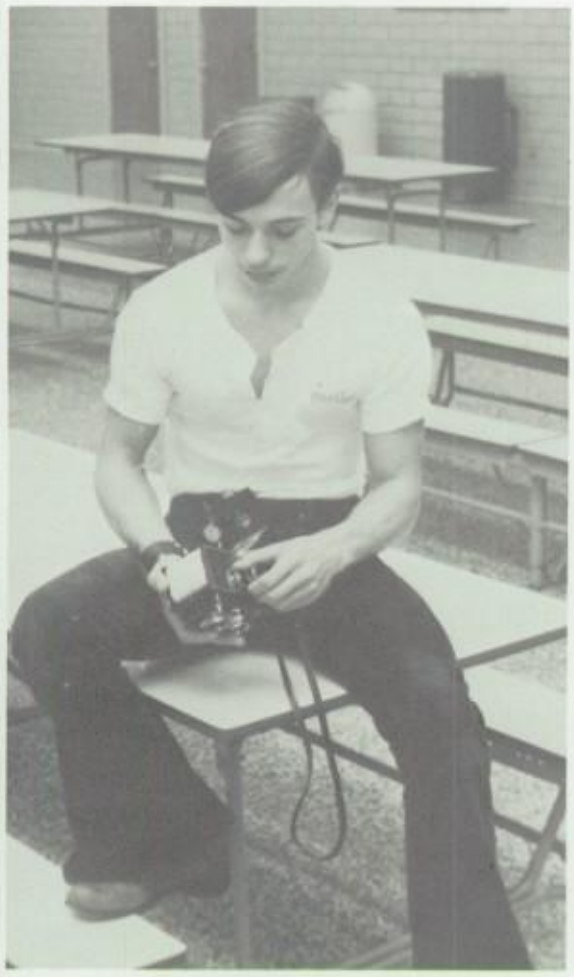
The purpose of the Panorama Business Staff was to finance the book. Advertising was sold to various shops and stores.

The staff consisted of Wanda Lashley (Business Manager), Sharon Mease (Treasurer), Carol Draper (Assistant Treasurer), Karen Irwin, Nancy Mitchell, Janice Moyer, Rick Munker, Kathy Owens, Michelle Varnum, Dee Zarnowski, and Lynn Shorb.

The Panorama was sold to students for $7.00, but cost the staff $9.50 to produce. The extra $2.50 was recovered by patrons, advertising, and commissions.



Panorama's "Special" Staff

Another very important member of the yearbook team was Mr. Thomas Martin, an Art teacher, who worked with Jamie Ryan on design and production of the art-work throughout the book. Mr. Martin also worked with the staff photographers: Tad Stilwell, Marc Lamb, John Cross, and Mike Gebhard.

Spectrum Informative and Entertaining

"The purpose of the Spectrum is to supply Arundel students with a tri-weekly publication which will be both informative and entertaining." This was what Bob Buchanan, editor-in-chief of the newspaper tried to achieve in each issue.

The Spectrum was well planned, using illustrations, photography, and literature. It supplied something to appeal to each student, no matter what difference in tastes, to try to overcome the problem of student apathy.

The Spectrum Staff furnished the information combined with the entertainment to keep the student body interested as well as informed.

The financial status needed to provide this newspaper service to the students has been overcome in past years by fund raising activities sponsored by the Spectrum. However, Bob Buchanan has proposed the Board of Education should finance the school newspapers of the county, since they are of educational value to the students.

Leaders Assist P.E. Teachers

Headed by Cindy Williams, the Leaders Club, had probed further in assisting physical education teachers, not only from Arundel but also elementary schools. The club members participated in officiating several elementary play days, a Team Sport Clinic at the University of Maryland, sold popcorn and cokes during the basketball and wrestling season, and supplied lighting crews and ushers at the gymnastics shows.

Mrs. Jean Boyd continued as club sponsor.

Athletic Council Sells, Refreshes and Cleans-Up

Mr. Aland Markish sponsored the Athletic Council for the 1972-73 school year. Members of the club constantly put forth the effort to make all home sports activities run smoothly, and add some refreshment to all spectators. Debbie Kessler presided over the group which consisted of Jeff Lloyd, Debbie Derr, Margie Shumate, Terry Angel, Barbara Jerman, Georgia Boudman, Patti Brooks, Lois Derr, Robin Buchanan, Gary Lloyd, Susan Collicott, Patty Barrett, Sandy Zoellner, Donna Dickie, Greg Dickie, Margie Vanagas. They all sold tickets for admittance, served refreshments and clean-up after the games.

Majorettes March With the Band

The majorettes, under the direction of Mr. Phillip Butts, marched with the band in all half-time shows and parades, including the Columbus Day Parade in Baltimore and the Laurel Christmas parade.

The three member group was composed of Glinda Ellif, June Cordon and Terry Frantom, head majorette.

Pom-Pons Perform at Half-Time

The Pom-pons have come a long way from their group of 10 in 1969 to their present membership of 26. The squad marched with the band in all parades, including the Homecoming parade, the Columbus Day Parade in Baltimore, and the Laurel Christmas Parade.

The squad performed in the half-time shows at football games and again this year at basketball games.

The traditional theme of the Pom-Pon squad of promoting school spirit and good sportsmanship remained constant.

Susan English served as captain, with Cheryl Thompson as co-captain. Mrs. Linda Jocobus acted as advisor.

Band Designs Program to Help Students Become Better Consumers of Music

This year the concert and marching band welcomed Mr. Phillip Butts as their new director.

The officers of the club are: Richard Lyons (President); Susan Pritzloff (Secretary); and Sam Crouch (Treasurer).

The band hoped to promote music within the school and community and to enhance cultural growth in each student's playing ability. In Mr. Butts' words, "The Band program is designed to allow each student to be better a consumer of music."

The band has performed in half-time shows and appeared in various concerts scheduled throughout the year.

The band participated in the Columbus Day Parade held in Baltimore and Spring Concert. They won second place in the Laurel Christmas Parade.

To provide an outlet for talented students, Mrs. Barbara Grande, head of the Music Department, has put together what she called an "excellent public relations group," the Concert Choir. This club provided an opportunity for students to participate in festivals, workshops, and competitions. The officers were Matt Kuhn, President; Debbie Potter, Secretary; and Sue Corrado, Treasurer.

The Concert Choir accomplishments included singing for two concerts, the Messiah Concert here in Arundel's auditorium, a funeral in Washington, D.C., a Christmas Assembly here at Arundel and a night of caroling. Their functions also included singing for Crofton Women's Club and St. John's in Severna Park. They also sponsored the annual Variety Show.

Plans for the future included a workshop at Severna Park High School, a spring concert, making a tour in an elementary and junior high school in the area and competing in the Choral Festival at Northeast High School. Costumes Add to Effect of Madrigals

This year the Madrigals came into existence at Arundel. It was a Club which performed music of the Renaissance period.

The music is demanding and it takes an above average student in music to sing it because it is close harmony music sung without accompaniment.

The Madrigals were the only type of music ensemble of this kind in the county, which made the club an asset to the school.

To give a better effect to the audience the Madrigals used their own money to buy costumes made from cotton and thin linen materials. The girls wore long dresses with capes. The boys wore tights, knickers, blouses, and capes.

Annie Boswell and Janice Seckman return to Guidance after checking the files for a new student.

GUIDANCE AIDES

Guidance aides were supervised by Mrs. Ethel Ritchie. They helped her with clerical work, acting as receptionists, filing, running errands, and generally keeping the office in good order.

OFFICE AIDES

Mrs. Jean Thompson headed the office aides who worked in the main office. They answered the phone, greeted the public, filed and maintained registration cards, operated the office machines (duplicator, mimeograph, photocopier, collator, etc.), typed and maintained a regular clerical work routine.

The aides became so efficient at their jobs that they enabled the secretaries to devote more time to their specific jobs without constantly being interrupted.

ATTENDANCE AIDES

Students who volunteered as attendance aides wrote late passes for tardy students and filed reports for students being dismissed early due to illness. They worked under the direction of Mr. Hayden Ellyson.

Announcers Use Speech Techniques

Once more this year Arundel found it necessary to make announcements to both morning and afternoon sessions.

Galen Heathwole, Bill Beckman, Rene Boyd, and Paul Rozmarynowski worked diligently to deliver announcements to the morning shift. Tom Chaney made announcements to the afternoon shift.

Having completed or presently being enrolled in Speech I was a prerequisite for all P.A. announcers.

In the public address booth the announcers had the chance to practice their diction, voice clarity and other public speaking techniques taught by their advisor, Miss Leah Ross.

What You Have Lost, They May Have Found

Once upon a time two lost souls, Pat Stark and Bonnie Miller, found themselves in the Lost and Found room beside the auditorium. Naturally, they asked themselves the inevitable, "What am I doing here?" Others began to wonder the same thing. They opened the Lost and Found, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, during morning and afternoon homerooms. Students checked with them for lost articles ranging from Chemistry texts to gym shorts.

Miss Cleo Campbell supervised the Lost and Found Department.

"Take Your Seat Please, the Show Is About to Begin"

Jeanette Peck and Barbara Vollmer were chairmen for the seating committee. This group kept students out of hallways prior to 7:10 a.m. and assisted in the seating and dismissal of students during assemblies.

This gave teachers time to get in the school and time to prepare for class before students came in. It also kept the assemblies running on time.

1st Annual Hairy Awards

With Sherrie Iverson and Mike DiBartolo as Mistress and Master of Ceremonies, the 1972 Variety Show was "brushed" with quite a number of "Hairy Awards." Talents varied from bands to ballerinas, from Raisin Rebellions to Black Extravaganza Dancers.

As always the teachers surprised the audience by "commercializing" the evenings talents. To top off the night, the Senior Girls sang "Let Me Entertain You," which was the basic motive behind each act.

The 1972 Variety Show was trisponsored by the Thespians, Spectrum, and Literary Magazine. The teachers in charge were Mrs. Jean Queen and Mrs. Serene Moseson.

Not uncommon to Arundel, the 1972 Gymnastic Show was a "definite success due to the cooperation and performance of an enthusiastic group of gymnasts," stated Mrs. Boyd, head of the girls Physical Education department.

Unique to this show was the theme song. Miss Carol Nutt, director and coach, wrote the lyrics. Lisa Gwaltney, a junior at Arundel, composed the music and recorded the song for the show.

A floor routine performed with hulla-hoops and a balance beam sequence using several girls, were new acts which added highlights of imagination to the show.

1972 Carnival Moves Outdoors

The 1972 Carnival, sponsored by the Inter-Club Council, was held outside the building for the first time. There was no admission charged. However, the receipts from each organizations booth added to their treasuries.

Along with the variety of amusements, an art show, displaying the talents of students from Arundel and surrounding area schools, was held.

A band provided live entertainment, and a pleasant atmosphere to the afternoon.

Spectators Flock to See "The Birds"

"Although I have always taken liberty with the plays I have directed, rewriting, deleting scenes, adding music or dance, etc., never before have I taken so many liberties with one play," stated Mr. Walter McElderry, "But we think even Aristophanes, the original author of the play, might have liked it this way."

With the use of quite spectacular costumes and a "herculean" set, especially credited to Tony Cusimono and Sue Corrado, Arundel was able to present one of the most difficult, yet cleverly entertaining, plays on the auditorium stage for three sell out nights.

"The Birds" told the story of a comedy team's effort to journey and find a better society among the birds. The large talented cast displayed their search for Epops, the King of the Birds, and what they persuaded him to do, which in two acts, was the body of the play.

Arundel's inner courtyard rocked to some "old Favorites" at this year's jam session. "Paranoid" and "Wayne Mauler and Friends" returned with some great sounds.

"Black Manhattan's" Jim Brown, Neil Bullock and John Hamilton played their farewell performance before the bands separation.

The S.G.A., Senior Class and Junior Class tri-sponsored the jam. It was estimated that these bands attracted over 1400 people, including members of Arundel's faculty interested in enjoying the evenings entertainment.

Bonfire Sheds Light on Victory

On an autumn evening a crowd of Arundelites found themselves at the traditional Homecoming bonfire. Groups of people gathered on the soccer field, enjoying the mild evening weather and the blazing fire. All three squads of cheerleaders came out cheering and doing their best to rouse spirit for the big game in the morning.

As soon as the fire died down, a group of volunteer musicians from Arundel provided rock music.

Music Department Presents "Sounds of Christmas"

Arundel's Concert Band and Concert Choir were joined for the first time this year by the "Stage Band" and "Madrigals." The Concert got off to a good start with the band playing "The Masterpiece" and continuing on with "The Happy Sounds of Christmas" and others. Some of the selections sung by the choir were "Carol the Bells," "Ave Maria," and "Still and Hushed." Later, the band and the choir combined to play the "Hallelujah Chorus."

The Madrigals, a band of singers taken from the Renaissancesance Age, sang the unforgettable "Call to Remembrance" and other songs of that age. The stage band made a tremendous first appearance to all who attended the concert by playing "The Opener," "Feeling Free," and "Jingle Bell Bounce."

In all, about seventeen selections were played for the night's performance, truly a memorable "Sound of Christmas."

Hush Seniors

A test of Arundel's Seniors to keep silent for a day resulted in Mr. and Miss Irresistible, who were named at the Miss Arundel Dance.

To participate in the annual Senior Tag Day festivities, a senior had to first go to the cafeteria lobby and purchase some tags for 5¢ each. Later on Boys Senior Tag Day and Girls Senior Tag Day, the guy or girl would be forced to give up a tag to the guy or girl that made him or her talk. Then at the end of the two days, the tags would be totaled up and the winner would be named Mr. and Miss Irresistable.

Proven Irresistible were Evelyn Thompson and Dennis Kundin.

Cats Take 4th in State

The Cats went to the county relays for their first event of the season. They won the 880 relay but left because of heavy rains. The team's next opposition came at the Penn Relays which involved about 7,000 contestants. Arundel finished seventh in the 440 relay and in the top 20 in the mile relay.

At the end of the regular season, the thin-clads from Arundel had built up another undefeated season with only one loss in a dual meet by one point to mar their record in four years. The season was not quite over as the Cats won their third county and fourth consecutive district titles.

A bad handoff in the mile relay and an overall bad day made the difference in Arundel taking fourth instead of first at the State Meet.

Thinclads Combine for Eleven Titles

Arundel's 1972 Spring Track team upheld its usual high average of talent. During the season, school records and many individual county, district, and state titles were taken home when the Cats stepped onto the track.

Two new school records were set. Poncho Cooper set one by running the 100 yard dash in 9.8 seconds and Bill Ham the other by doing the mile in 4:26.1.

Winning county, district, and state championships were Barry Merritt (120 yard high hurdles in 14.9 — county), George Proctor (220 yard dash in 21.6 — state), Rick Scott (2 miles in 10:06 — county and district), and Bill Ham (mile in 4:26.1 — county and district).

The relay squad consisting of Penny, Cooper, Johnson, and Proctor put it all together winning all three titles in the 440 and 880 relays. The best times were 42.6 and 1:29 seconds respectively.

Lacrosse Team Represented on First Team

"As a team there was little success but individually there were those who excelled," stated Coach Larry Parks. The team went through the varsity schedule with wins over Brooklyn Park and Charlotte Hall. Arundel's Tim Smith made the All-County first team as goalie with 97 saves.

Arundel's J.V. stickmen, while being new to the game, combined their efforts for a season of two wins and four losses. Team spirit of the players brought forth many come from behind attempts, only to lose by one point. Outstanding players offensively were Bill Korvin, Andy Finley, and Al Muirhead. Defensively, Terry O'Brien and Chuck Jenkins were mentioned.

Three Make All-County in 1972

Arundel's Varsity Baseball Team had a better than .500 season with a record of 7-6-1. Under the coaching of Francis Gauvin, the Cats took third place losing four games by only one run.

Larry Stocks' number one batting average of .439 and his pitching contributed to his selection to the All-County First Team and as the Most Valuable Player.

Arundel placed another player on the All-County First Team and one on the All-County Second Team. Catcher and outfielder Bill O'Hara took first team honors while Bill Haines, second baseman, took the second team honors. O'Hara ranked fourth in the county in batting with an average of .343 and his teammate was one notch behind with an average of .326.

Candy Sales Finance First J.V. Team in 1972

Arundel had the first and only J.V. Baseball team in the county in 1972. The team sold candy in order to buy uniforms and to finance other expenses. Coach Schanberger attributed the 1-7 record to a tough schedule and a lack of experience. Four of the seven losses were close up to the last few innings. The J.V. team's win came out of a 1-0 shut-out against Millford Mill. Coach Schanberger concluded by saying, "Even though the team did not win as many games as they wanted, they learned a lot and gained experience for varsity."

Golf Team Takes Fifth in District

The 1972 Golf team posted a six win and five loss slate in the county. Several of the losses were by only two points. Out of twenty schools, the Cats placed fifth in the district. Since only the top three in the district go to state, the Arundel golfers could not exhibit their talent in the state tournament. Arundel's John Barron went through the season with an undefeated record of 11-0. Ray Walker posted an 8-2-1 record. According to Coach Johnston, "The team should take county as well as John and Ray going to the state tourney in 1973."

Tennis Keeps Rollin in '72

The 1972 Tennis Team finished the season with a winning record of eight wins and two losses. The team faced a major problem at the beginning of the season which was that they did not have a coach. Mr. Dare Brown who coached Arundel Tennis Teams to several county championships could not fit it into his schedule. Since the team had to have some faculty member with them in order to remain active, Mr. Robert McCarthy acted as advisor.

Even without a coach, the team had a successful year posting several shut outs. Three returning letterman added experience to the team. Lloyd Phillips had the best record with only one defeat while teammate Scott Shephard had only two defeats.

As Season Continues, Spirit Grows

Arundel's J.V. Soccer team, coached by Mr. Donald Hobbs, had a winning season totaling 3 wins, 2 losses, and 1 tie. The players learned and applied basic skills which they had gathered through practice, to place third in the county tournament play.

The complete sophomore team was headed by Kirk Batteiger and Wayne Smith as they shared position as co-captains. The two co-captains also were selected as outstanding players for the season.

Kirk Batteiger led in points with 3 goals, followed by Mike Garcia with 2, and Wayne Mundell with 1.

Coach Hobbs commented that the team's spirit grew as the season continued and the players grew with their skills.

Kirk Batteiger takes it in to score.

Four Players on 72 Team Receive Honors

Arundel was represented on the All-State and All-Metropolitan Team by one player and on the All-County Team by four.

Running back Jeff Herrick was selected to the All-Metropolitan and State Team. Herrick gained 1,227 yards on 215 carries to score 103 points, good for the county and metropolitan scoring titles. Herrick also threw the option pass for Arundel in which two were completed for touchdowns.

Along with Herrick on the All-County offensive squad was Ken Morris at center. On the All-County defensive team were linebacker Henry Rodriquez and defensive guard George Bryant.

Wildcats Defeat Slow Start

"This team probably accomplished a lot more than any recent Arundel team," commented Coach Jerry Mears since the 1972 football team posted a 7-3 record good for second place after starting out as a largely inexperienced team. Team improvement from a relatively slow start was exhibited when the Wildcats beat number one ranked Belair squad and arch-rival Glen Burnie.

When Chuck Magill was not calling the running plays, Greg Tilton called the passes. Tilton completed 21 passes for 353 yards in which 7 went in for touchdowns. Jeff Herrick ran for 17 touchdowns and rushed for 1,227 yards which set a new school record. Chuck Markiewicz scored 10 touchdowns while Rick Rogers served as the number one receiver scoring 4 touchdowns and pulling down 11 passes for 186 yards.

The defense was led by leading tackler Henry Rodriquez. Outstanding were safety Rick Rogers, Dave Capozzalo, and Andy Finley. Arundel posted shut-out victories over St. Mary's and Andover.

Jayvees Finish First in County

Arundel's 1972 J.V. Football Team had a record of 8 wins and one loss. The Wildcats won the title of Co-Champions with Annapolis.

Mark Speidell gained 890 yards for a total of 78 points while teammate Bernard Roscoe ran 700 yards for 58 points. The team combined for a total 258 points. The defensive team controlled the season with 4 shut-outs, allowing opponents an average of 5.3 points per game, and scoring 20 points.

Indoor Track Team Takes County Title

The 1973 Winter Track Team placed first again this year at the county indoor track meet. Six records were broken with one tied at the meet at the U.S. Naval Academy Fieldhouse.

Gerald Johnson tied George Proctor's mark of 6.4 seconds in the 60 yard dash. The 880 Relay Team of Ira Queen, Steve Thomas, Cornelius Stephney, and Gerald Johnson set a new record with a mark of 1:35.4 while the Mile Relay Team of Chris Martin, Glen Chumley, Bill Korvin, and Gerald Johnson broke the record with a time of 3:33.7. Bill Ham did the 1000 yard run in 2:19.8, Wayne Harnish the 2 mile run in 8:41.8, Ira Queen the long jump at 20′9¼″, and Milton Tyler the triple jump at 41′6½″ all for new county indoor track records.

At the Fifth Regiment Armory Meet where 45 schools competed, Arundel took third losing first place by only four points. According to Assistant Coach Evans, the team would have taken first if Rick Scott and Steve Michaels would have run. Doc Jones was Head Coach with Patty Pizziano, Peggy Morgan, and Penny Morgan helping out as team managers.

Hepfer's Herd Posts Five County Champs

Arundel's 1973 Wrestling Team captured the dual meet championship with a record of 8-1-1 and the county tournament championship for the second consecutive year. The Herd tallied 104½ points in the tourney and had five county champs.

Taking county titles this year were Mike Winters (108 lbs.), Will Magill (115 lbs.), Steve Layfield (135 lbs.), Chuck Markiewicz (158 lbs.), and Andy Finley (170 lbs.). Winters and Layfield repeated as champs. Taking second place were Pat Cubello, Ken Morris, and Dave Capozzalo. Undefeated wrestlers were Winters (9-0), Cubello (10-0), Markiewicz (7-0), and Finley (10-0) for the dual meet season.

The team accomplished a rare feat by posting 30 falls to only 6 for opponents. The wrestlers averaged 39 points a game to their opponent's 13.

Cubello and Winters led the team in individual scoring with 45 and 43 team points respectively.

Girls Enter Sports Scene in 1972

Girls from Arundel participated in an interscholastic sport for the first time this year. The 1972 Volleyball Team, coached by Mrs. Carolyn Anderson, had a record of one win and 13 losses. Every game, except one, went the entire three matches to determine the winner.

Fern Eldridge and Sara Kain were the team's leading spikers. Karen Butler threatened opponents with her serves while Emily Weinrich and Peggy Troiano lessened opponent's power with some very good saves.

According to Coach Anderson, the team gave their opponents the toughest competition when everyone came together as a team.

First Step Taken Toward Comeback

Arundel's Wildcat Varsity Basketball Team took the first step toward bringing Arundel back to the championships. This year's team was headed offensively by Mike Wright (avg. 18.5 pts. per game), Poncho Cooper (9 pts.), and Carl Vaughn (8 pts.). Defensively the Wildcats were led by Poncho Cooper and Mike Wright, aided by the rebounding of Carl Vaughn, John Davis, and Bruce Hepler.

Coach Mears commented on his team this way: "Although inconsistent at times the 1971-73 basketball team has made significant achievements. They have proved they can win against the best competition and come back following a disastrous 1971-72 season."

J.V.'s Pave the Way to Finer Basketball

Arundel's J.V. Basketball team showed its skills, and possibly an insight into Arundel's basketball future. Coach Johnston looked forward to sight the following: "With a year's varsity experience, this team should see Arundel return to the State Tournament in the next few seasons. Maybe next year if a few key players develop over the summer."

Coach Johnston pushed scholastics as well as athletics to form a more perfect body of brain and brawn.

This year, the team was headed offensively by Henry Raymond, averaging 18 points a game, Clift Carey, averaging 17.5 points a game. Defensively the J.V.'s scored an average of 71 points per game, only allowing 54 points average against them.

MGB

Still built with a marvelous device called the human hand.

There are over 1,000 pairs of hands building MGs at Abingdon-on-Thames, England. Their operations are measured in minutes, not seconds. That's why there is time for pride. That's why the MG-TC started an automobile revolution in the U.S. And that's why its successor, the MGB, is still the most popular imported sports car in the U.S.

During a year, this diary of time has caught special moments out of the lives of many Arundelites. It withholds the memories and experiences, each different to the individual paging through its fantasy of time being stopped. When lonely days bring a person to reopen its pages, its memories, thoughts, and loves will be relived again and again.

Arundel Senior High
Gambrills, Maryland

Mr. Dunagan Graduates After 22 Years

James W. Dunagan, principal of Arundel Senior High School, has left after 22 years. He has been appointed Director of the Annapolis-Southern Schools, Area One under the county's K through 12 reorganization plan.

During his 22 years at Arundel as teacher and coach, assistant principal, supervisor of instruction and finally principal, Jim Dunagan watched Arundel grow from that rural agricultural school to one of the largest comprehensive schools in Maryland.

Mr. Dunagan was part of Arundel's growth. He coached basketball and had the first county championship team to play in Cole Field House. He worked with student government, started Arundel's track team and introduced psychology courses to our curriculum. At the age of 27, he was appointed vice-principal and three years later became Arundel's supervisor of instruction. In 1964, he succeeded Mabel Parker as Arundel's principal.

At the graduation exercises, students and their guests received Mr. Dunagan's farewell address. In his farewell address to seniors which was also his farewell to Arundel, Mr. Dunagan spoke of the changes that had dominated Arundel's history.

Changes that he had influenced and was proud of including semester courses, student self-scheduling, partial scheduling, self-pacing classes, independent study, work-study programs and the flexibility and options now provided for all Arundel students.

Under Mr. Dunagan's leadership, the involvement and morale of both staff and student body have been remarkable. His emphasis on the "student as an individual" and on "open door" approach to all problems should serve him well in his new job as director. Certainly, the staff and students of Arundel will miss him.

Conservation Classes Conserve School Beauty

Under the direction of Mr. John Mattana, there were two conservation classes which greatly contributed to the beautification of the school. This spring the group was presented an award for their efforts. The conservation project has been in operation for two years. Many flowers and trees have been planted by the students to help improve Arundel's appearance. Mr. Mattana and the students feel that the conservation project has been very worthwhile both to them and to the school.

Variety Show Exhibits Wide-Range Entertainment

The 1973 Variety Show was complemented by the Sesame Street theme. Oscar and his trashcan were on hand to help Malcolm Posey emcee the show. Mrs. Barbara Grande, along with the Concert Choir, sponsored and coordinated the show in order to raise money for their trip to the Bahamas.

David and his Ding-a-lings added their shananigans to those talents of Venise Jones, and Kathy and Peggy Troiano presenting part of the entertainment of the evening. The Senior Girls Surprise and David and his Ding-a-lings depicted life in the 1950's at Arundel.

Students Select Miss Afro 1973

Cherwanda Blizzard was the 1973 Afro Queen for Arundel High. Cherwanda was a junior this past year. She actively participated in Afro Club meetings and was popular among the students at Arundel since they voted her as queen. Cherwanda said that she was surprised to get this honor because she expected someone else to receive it. To Cherwanda, being Miss Afro meant promoting pride and respect for all races both in Arundel and in the outside world.

Afro Club Stages Black Explosion

Black Explosion was presented by the Afro Club. It was a presentation of Black life in and out of school. Singing, dancing, modeling, and comedy acts made up the show which a full house witnessed.

There were many who were responsible for making the show a success.

Three Sisters Experience Tragedy

Instead of having one major play directed by a member of Arundel's faculty, students chose and directed three different one acts for the 1973 spring production. A Night of One Acts was sponsored by the Senior Class.

The first play performed was Richard Hughes' The Sisters' Tragedy. Jeanne Rawlings was the director for this tragic play. In this play, there was a question of whether taking another person's life can ever be justified.

The cast included Teri Dosek, Sue Corrado, Brooke Bourne, David Lyons, and David Dillard. Mr. Walter McElderry was faculty sponsor.

Mistreated Grandma Finds Peace In Sandbox

The scene changed to the beach for Edward Albee's The Sandbox for the second one act play in which Mary Bahus was director. Exaggerating the unfair treatment of old people showed how a play can be absurd and serious at the same time.

The cast included Ann Hughes, Betsy Albertson, Paul Rozmarynowski, and Steve Elliot. Ms. Carol Bauer acted as faculty sponsor.

Dear Departed Fools His Mourners

The final play was Stanley Houghton's The Dear Departed. This showed how people will fight over a will even before they know for sure that the deceased is actually deceased. Leilla Miller acted as director.

The cast included Lynne MacFarlane, Don Sullivan, Kathy Schening, Teddy Eugines, David Ingram, and David Izumi. Faculty sponsor was Miss Patricia Marzke.

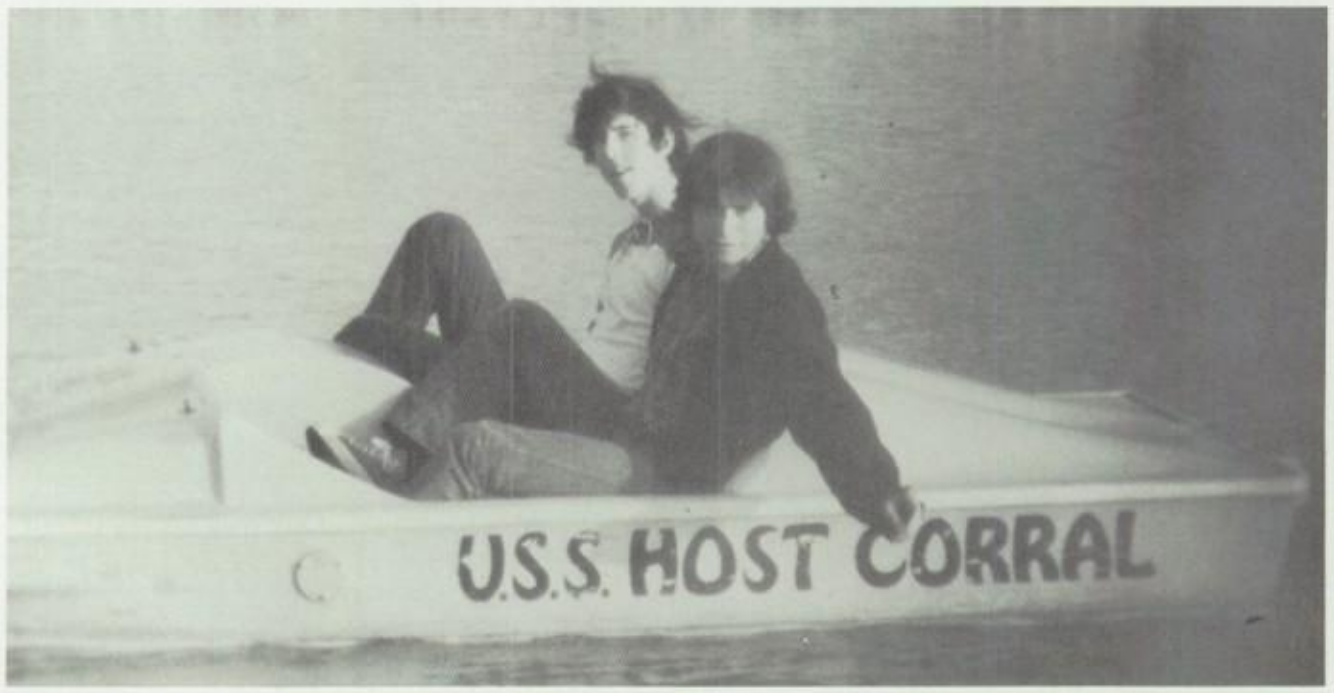
Seniors Spend Weekend At Resort



Lancaster, Pennsylvania was the scene for the Senior Class trip. Host Farm, Host Corral and Host Town are a series of resorts in Lancaster. The Seniors chose to stay at Host Farm but could enjoy the activities offered by all three resorts.

Over 70 seniors signed up for the trip but only 54 actually went. The Seniors went with the intention to ski and participate in winter sports but since the weather was warm, they enjoyed summer activities. Among some of the activities offered by the resort were tennis, indoor swimming, indoor ice skating, bicycling, and horseback riding.

The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Hofmann, Mr. and Mrs. Nicolini, Mr. and Mrs. Martin, and Mrs. Troy Brooks.

Gymnasts Present Focus On Faces

Focus On Faces was the theme for the eighth annual Gymnastics Show. The show consisted of routines performed on gymnastic equipment, comedy acts, and of acts employing special effects and lighting techniques. Enthusiastic students with assistance from sponsors, Miss Carol Nutt and Mrs. Jean Boyd put on this very successful and entertaining exhibition for three nights.

Besides putting on this show at home, the gymnastics club traveled to such places as College Park, Maryland and Fairfax, Virginia to watch some professional gymnasts perform. They also put on exhibitions at the Community College and at area elementary and junior high schools.

Band Takes Pleasure Trip To Norfolk

Arundel's Band members and director, Mr. Phillip Butts, took a pleasure trip to Norfolk, Virginia where they attended the Senior Recital. On their way, the group toured Williamsburg and at Norfolk, they toured the State Campus and visited the Naval School of Music.

The band's spring concert at the school was staged after their return. The Concert Band performed the "1812 Overture" for the first time at Arundel. Jerry Peterson from Arundel Junior High, conductor Don K. Smith, and several stage band soloists were the guests for the concert.

Cheerleaders Remain Best In County

The Varsity, Varsity Prep, and J.V. Cheerleaders received high recognition in the third annual county competition held at Glen Burnie High. The Varsity and Varsity Prep squads took first place for the third consecutive year. The J.V. squad placed second. All three squads were sponsored by Mrs. Sandra Nicolini. The cheerleaders were graded on their jumps, arm motions, personality, projection, appearance, voice, general execution, and variety.

Trackmen Race To Third State Title

Arundel's Spring Track Team won their fourth consecutive County title, fifth straight District title, and their third State championship out of the last four years in 1973. The team went undefeated this spring as it did in 1970 and 1972. The trackmen had very tough opposition from state top ten teams such as Dundalk, Crossland, Severna Park, Parkdale, and Bowie.

Ron Evans was head coach and was assisted by Al LeCron. Penny and Peggy Morgan, Patty Pizzino, and Mark Milewski contributed to the coaching also as they gave their enthusiasm and dedication to the championship team.

Thinclads Excel in '73

There were many Arundel thinclads who either broke records or made notable performances. Bill Ham set a new mile mark at 4:24.4 and a new 880 yard run record at 1:54.1. Gerald Johnson went through the season undefeated in the 440 yard run to capture the County, District, and State titles. Rodney Tyler won the State long jump crown jumping 22.1 feet. Poncho Cooper in the 100 yard dash, Milton Tyler in the long and triple jump, Ira Queen in the high and low hurdles, David Hesli in the discus, and Steve Michaels and Wayne Harnish in the two mile run all had near record breaking times or distances.

Group effort by Bill Irving, Chris Martin, Chuck Thomas, and Poncho Cooper earned the 880 relay State championship with a time of 1:30.2 seconds. The 440 yard relay team consisting of Poncho Cooper, Milton Tyler, Chris Martin, and Gerald Johnson won the State title for a record of four years in a row with a time of 43.2 seconds.

The girls team also had individuals who won titles. Stickmen Strike Back Offensively

The 1973 Varsity Lacrosse Team, coached by Donald Hobbs, came through the season with a nine to six victory over Kent County. Even though the team managed only one win, there was an average of four goals scored per game without any shut-outs posted by opponents. According to Coach Hobbs, the problem was keeping opponents from scoring in large spurts. Pam Sandul and Cindy Wyatt were the scorekeepers.

Bill Korvin led the attack with sixteen goals during the season with teammates Rick Hans combining for six goals and midfielder Andy Finley scoring five goals. Korvin was nominated for the All-County Team and Finley missed second team honors by only one vote.

There were nine Seniors on the 1973 Lacrosse Team. They were Ben Bishop, Tim Carlin, Bob Dorey, Rick Hans, C. A. Hilliard, Steve Layfield, Duffy McAnallen, John Norbeck, Daryl Sensnig, and Bill Mooney.

The team scored victories over every county team except Andover who took the first place honors.

Other victories were posted over Glen Burnie, Southern, and two over Severna Park. Herrick went through the season with a .350 batting average while Seitz came on strong at the end to close with a .444 average.

1973 Prom Colours World

The 1973 Senior Prom was held at Turf Valley Country Club. For the first time in Arundel's history, the prom began with a buffet dinner served to over 500 seniors and guests. Following the dinner, the 1973 Panorama dedication was announced. Appropriately, Mrs. Sandra Hofmann, class advisor for the last three years, was the recipient of this award. Dancing to the music provided by Wizard culminated the five hour affair. Charles Downey, past class president, was a special guest of the evening. Seniors and their guests spent the evening "Colouring Their World" at the 1973 Senior Prom.

The Concert Choir and the Madrigals, directed by Mrs. Barbara Grande, raised approximately $16,000 to enable them to participate in the Festival of the Americas in Nassau, the Bahamas. In this competition which involved only seven invited high schools from the United States, the choir received a third place rating. Two schools received first place ratings with no second place being awarded to any school. While the choir was there, they sang twice with one of the concerts being presented to the guests at the hotel where they stayed.
